Our learning this week....

Which Pathway Will You Take?

English- The myths are finished and the children shared with each other and have been busy redrafting this week. It was lovely to use our outdoor space to share our stories.

Sex and Relationships Education

We have been learning about how babies are made and how babies are born this week. We talked about how the foetus develops over the 9 months – from fertilization of the egg to the development of a full sized baby by 40 weeks.

We have also recapped on last year's learning about puberty and talked about some of the changes that might be happening or happening soon. 'Betty's Bus' is a great website with videos and advice for talking about periods and puberty, you could always look at this at home too if the children wanted to.

Next Week...

Morfa Bay:

We will see you all bright and early on Monday 5th. Please bring any medicines to Mrs Gee (see reminder below) and money in a named purse to me.

Can children wear their Leaver's hoodie or school jumper to travel in.

Mrs Shrewsbury will not be attending Morfa Bay camp as she has not fully recovered yet from her operation on her shoulder (back in February), so it doesn't seem wise to be abseiling and crawling through a cave!

Mrs Gee will be taking her place and will also be in charge of medicines and first aid on camp. Please could you give any medicines and discuss any medical concerns with her.
