Our learning this week....

English- We have moved on to Persuasive writing and the children have written excellent political manifestos for their parties. A lot of their writing is very persuasive with a confident use of language of debate and emotive vocabulary!

Maths- We started the week by applying what we have learnt about multiplication methods to solving word problems and reasoning questions. We have now moved onto short division with decimal or fraction remainders.

Project- The excitement continues as the children have been continuing with their campaigns and starting to write scripts for their party political broadcasts!

Celebrations..

Teacher's Award this week goes to Scarlett Nolan for excellent story writer's language. Most house points was Oliver Howes.

Next week....

English- Short write-Diary writing

Maths- Long division and reasoning questions.

Project- Campaigns
launched in school,
finishing with a polling
day next Friday!

Reminders.....

Parents' Evenings on Wednesday and Thursday next week. I look forward to talking to you about your child's progress and next steps.
