30th September 2016

A huge thank you to Mrs Burton, Mrs Mountjoy, Mrs Widera and Mrs Chorley for supporting us with our school trip and the visit to the church for Harvest Festival. I hope you enjoyed our lovely poem which we are looking forward to performing at the MacMillan coffee morning... we look forward to seeing you there.

Our Learning This Week...

On Tuesday, we had the pleasure of visiting Wickwar church to celebrate our Harvest festival. Packed with thoughtful poems, exciting songs and even a spot of French, the children and adult helpers alike enjoyed our gathering for Harvest.

In the afternoon, the children role-played various scenarios focusing on conflict resolution. We are learning from each other about how to be a good friend.

The children observed the conflicts, explained what caused the problem and how to resolve it with appropriate 'good friend' behaviours.

On Wednesday, the children were bursting at the seams, for today was the day we were heading to The Bristol Museum! Ready with packed lunches and an excited smile, we set off and spent the whole day investigating the layout of a museum and how they display artefacts in the hopes it would support us with our own museum, later this year.

After venturing around the displays, we then studied artefacts within our Stone Age – Iron Age workshop. The staff of Bristol Museum were impressed with our thoughtful questions and our excellent behaviour... well done Crystal Class!
