What have we been learning?

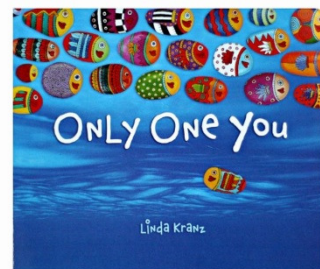

We have been growing our mathematical brain stars by trying to explain our thinking with some problems.

Next week:

As you know we will be joining in with the National anti-bullying week. The theme this year will help us to celebrate our unique qualities. The whole school will be using the book 'Only One You' to inspire us with our rock painting. We will design them first then use peer critique before painting. If you haven't sent a rock yet, please send in on Monday.

Reading challenge

There is a note in the book bag tonight about a new reading challenge. The children are all going to have a caterpillar badges that move up a tree in the KS1 corridor.

Children in Need

Next Friday wear something spotty with your school uniform and bring in a round pound. We thought this was a good way of people getting rid of any pounds hanging around. If you have been organised and already got rid of these, then any other donations will be very welcome.

Have a lovely weekend,

Laura Cleverly
