

Jet Class Newsletter

31.03.2017

What have we been learning?

Wow! What an amazing morning we had at our 'What can you see below us?' morning. We hope you all enjoyed our tour around the 7 continents of the world and sharing all our fantastic learning from terms 3 and 4. We are very proud of all the learning Jet class have produced during this theme and we have all thoroughly enjoyed our time travelling around the continents.

We completed our non fiction information leaflets at the beginning of the week and continued to develop our skills on fractions through problem solving.

Next Week

We will be continuing to explore and compare Brazil and Wickwar in geography.

We will be developing our writing skills using exclamation sentences about animals.

Other News

Next term we are changing our classroom environment into a forest/wood for our next theme. We are looking for resources to enable us to create this environment. We are looking for fake grass, bark, tree stumps, fake plants, cargo nets or a small tent. If you have any of these things that we can borrow please can you let us know or bring them in.

Please make sure your child's completed Reading paper home learning is back in by Monday if not already returned.

Please make sure all of the books in the Bug Club library are being read.

Jet Class Newsletter

31.03.2017

