

Opal Class News

Friday 2nd May 2025

After a wonderful wow day, the children are starting to sink their teeth into our new Roman project. The children are already finding it fascinating and we are starting by learning about the background of the Romans before we start to look at the Roman invasion and their influence on Britain.

In English, we have been writing eye-witness accounts from the Last Alchemist book. The children have learnt that this shows similarities to a diary but it is more formal. In Maths, the children have learnt about scaling, linking to ratio which the children will learn next year. The children have even been completing some year 6 SATs questions.

Key dates coming up:

Every Wednesday – Cornet lessons

21st May – Sports day

2nd July – Cornet concert for parents.

Coming up next week
Learning focused

In Maths, we shall be converting measurements and problem solving with this.

In English, we are starting our new story – Varmints

Science –continuing life cycles

History – who were the Romans?

Continue with reading 5 x a week.
Mathletics and TTRS
