Dear Parents/Carers,

As the weeks go on, the reality of learning at home may become harder for many households. We know that learning at home will look different in every home as no two households are the same. Many parents are continuing to work as well as trying to home school their child(ren) and larger households with children of varying ages may experience different challenges too.

Social media is full of people across the country sharing their home learning comparisons and successes, which can make people feel stressed that they are not achieving the ideal at home. Some days may be easy and you may feel like you have cracked it, others may be difficult. The important thing is to keep trying in a way that works for you and your family.

As a school we are here to support you and we will continue to do our best to help you to support your child's learning at home. We have received positive feedback about the learning on Google Classroom and this system seems to be working well. We are really pleased with that the majority of families are accessing this on a regular basis and completing some or all of the tasks set. Please use these to help to structure your week days and encourage your child(ren) to maintain good study habits which will help them beyond this period of time.

All the very best

Mrs Deb Williams
