Science

We have started our new Science topic – Evolution. The children have enjoyed the first few lessons on this fascinating topic. They have created their own creatures and thought about how their features have adapted to suit the environment they live in.

Sats Week

The children have copied well with the testing this week and have really tried their best to complete the tests under timed conditions. They have gone well but we are certainly all pleased that they are over!

History

On Monday we began looking at the Viking attacks and invasions and the children chose their own topic that they will be researching.
