Our learning this week...

Project Launch –Can You Crack The Code?

This terms project combines computing, maths and history. It focuses on events of WW2 and the importance of coding and the role of the Bletchley Park Code breakers. Our Wow start involved the children working in pairs to solve a series of coded challenges to determine if they have what it takes to join the Amethyst Codebreakers-they all passed!

English

Our class book this term is called Letters from the Lighthouse by Emma Carroll. It is a story set in WW2 and ties in very well with our theme on the use of coding during WW2.

Maths

This week we have been calculating with percentages and converting between fractions, decimals and percentages.

5th January 2018

Goodnight Mister Tom (a WW2 story) is being performed by the Court Players over half –Term and I know several of the class members are in the cast-I am sure the children would enjoy it. 14th-17th February-Rangeworthy. Box Office 01454 321149
