Our learning this week...

Maths

The children have been learning how to use their knowledge of 'order of operations' to solve problems (BIDMAS or sometimes known as BODMAS).

End of project outcome: How can we persuade people to take part in Fair Trade? How can we make life fairer for others?

We have been busy writing persuasive leaflets all about Fair Trade; I am amazed by the quality of writing, designs and neatness. The children have designed their own Fair Trade chocolates and written persuasive adverts for them. We will be busy making some Fair Trade chocolate treats to sell after school on Monday. The children will each make a gift bag of chocolates to be sold for £1.50 and some individual chocolate treats for 50p each. With any money we raise we are hoping to buy an Oxfam Christmas gift (send a cow) for people in another country.
