

Amethyst Class Newsletter

Our learning this week...

Project: Can You Crack The Code?

After plotting events on a timeline, the children have been very keen to find out more about what happened during the 1940s. They have been researching their own project questions and writing a report of their findings. We have been fortunate to have the opportunity to handle many real artefacts from WW2 this week and start to build up a picture of what life was like.

English

Our class book is starting to get exciting: the children have been evacuated to Devon. The children have written letters and recounts from the different characters. We have been learning how to use semi-colons and colons in a list.

Maths

This week has been an assessment week for Maths and the children have done a full set of practise Sats papers for Mathematics.

Next week: Mr Heath (Jessica's Grandad) is coming in to talk to us about WW2 and code breaking at Bletchley Park.

11th January 2018