Our learning this week...

Maths

All the children are now secure using a pencil and paper method for long division. They have been applying these skills to solving word problems and reasoning questions.

English

This week we read the book 'The Christmas Truce' by Carol Ann Duffy. After reading and watching last year's Christmas Advert by Sainsbury's supermarket, the children wrote two diary entries from the trenches.

Art

The children have been busy adding the final touches to their abstract paintings on the theme of 'war'. We look forward to sharing these and other learning with you on Monday.
