Our learning this week...

Project – Who has the power?

We have been finishing our electricity science investigations. Please note the videos from the STEM day are on Google Classroom.

Maths

We have been learning the order of operations and using BIDMAS to help us.

English

The children have written fantastic poems inspired by the CloudBusting book. They have written Haikus, Limericks or poems that use repeating themes and I was impressed by all of them!

Music

We have now completed our 10 lessons and all children can play several chords and strum along to 6 different songs. I have filmed the 6 songs and put the videos on Google Classroom, hopefully you will have time to watch them as a family. We will be performing 3 of them at next week's coffee morning.
