Our learning this week...

How Can We Make Life Fair?

English- Writing

The rest of the school were extremely impressed with the Autumn poems the class had written and how they presented them to the school (every child took part and read out alone or in groups -their choice!). Amethyst class seem to love writing and have been enjoying writing the next chapter for our class book – Garbage King.

Maths

We have finished learning about rounding and moved on the inverse problems involving addition and subtraction.

Home Learning

Please could children hand in their presentations of the mould investigation by Friday 13th. They can bring in on paper, email items to me or load onto Google Classroom. Just to clarify, I don't need to see the actual mouldy bread!

Just a reminder that in the week the children should aim to do the following at home:

Practise spelling patterns (in orange book) for testing on Monday, TTRS, Mathletics, Reading – 5 times a week and signed by someone at home.
