Project: Why do people leave their homes?

We have been researching evacuation during WW2 and making notes ready to write a non-chronological report.

Maths

We have started our learning on fractions and have begun with equivalent fractions and ordering fractions of different denominators.

English

Our class book this term is Letters From The Light House, we have read the first few chapters and started to get to know the characters.

SATS books

The 10 minute Sats buster books have been given out. I have suggested the children do one of each every week (if they have time), this is optional. If they record which ones they have done in their reading record then I will reward them with house points on a Friday. The books are a good way of getting used to the style of the tests without being too onerous! The children should have a go, if they can't answer they can ask a grown up, google methods or bring the book in to ask me.

Many parents have found these a good way for the children to get used to doing regular home work, ready for next year!
