How Can We Make Life Fair?

Maths

The children have secured the method of long division, including giving remainders as fractions or decimals. We will move on to BIDMAS next week – order of operations.

Project - How can we make life fair?

Last Friday the class organised a whole school event – Children in Need. In groups they were responsible for different aspects of putting on the event: some planned and presented an assembly to the whole school, others designed advertising material, a few children wrote a letter to parents, one group organised a whole school treasure hunt in morning play, others ran a very successful cake sale and a number of children enjoyed adding up the money on Monday morning! £333 was raised.

They all enjoyed being part of a real life project and helping to make life fairer for other children in the U.K and beyond.

Our next part of the project is to think how we can raise awareness of Fair Trade and make some money to help an overseas charity (watch this space for more details...).
