If all the world's a stage, what will be your part?

ROMEO and JULIET

The children have acted out the balcony scene from 'Romeo and Juliet' and have written letters from Romeo to Juliet. The letters were very romantic with excellent use of hyperbole!

The children have been making puppets and written scripts for a puppet show of the play. They have worked very well in their groups and we are ready for showing each other our final shows.

Maths

We have been looking at geometry this week, in particular properties of circles. The children have worked through several reasoning problems linking all areas of shape.

Science

We have started to look at our new Science unit- Evolution and have begun by the children setting questions and lines of enquiry.
