Is Life One Big Adventure?

As a class we talked about why the Vikings left their homeland and what it was like to be invaded by the Vikings. The children have written their own enquiry questions and have begun making notes to help them find answers.

We have been busy revising all the SPAG topics and have looked at different styles of test questions each day. In maths we have finished our last topic-Algebra and are ready to spend some time revising areas the children find tricky next week.

Our class book for this term is an adaptation of Beowulf (written by Michael Morpurgo) and we have been writing letters between two of the main characters this week. The children have begun to plan a newspaper report about the defeat of Grendel by Beowulf.
