In Maths we have been learning all about perimeter this week. We checked that we knew how to measure accurately using a ruler before using these skills to measure and calculate the perimeter of shapes. In English we have been getting into our key text, The Snow Dragon. We have been learning the story inside and out! The children have become masters at recapping the story by orally retelling it to one another. We also recapped our understanding of adjectives and similes this week to improve our sentence writing. The descriptions of a dragon the children have created were brilliant!

In Art this term we are learning about sculpture using clay. Learning new skills with clay is part of our first mini outcome, What is in the eye? where we will sculpt a dragons eye to show our skills. This week we looked at the work of artist Noriko Kuresumi and discussed what we liked about it as well as finding out a few facts about her. In PE, we are looking at gymnastics and how we can make symmetrical and non-symmetrical shapes

Jumpers and bags- There seems to be an abundance of jumpers left in class everyday and on pegs. We always go through them at the end of each day to give them out however, lots are still left! I have put any unnamed jumpers in lost property and all named will be handed out today. Bags- please only bring in bigger bags if they are needed. We have lots of bags that are being used just to carry lunchboxes in and then sitting on the floor and pegs empty. This becomes a fire hazard and safety hazard for other pupils going around the school as we are limited on space.

Have a lovely weekend. Miss Hurford and Miss Ali

Important notices

Our school trip to Edward Jenner Museum is coming up soon! (The 31st January) Please ensure payments are made through Scopay asap.

Please ensure spelling books are in each Wednesday so the children can stick in their spellings with Miss Ali.

Reading books continue to be in everyday and they will be ticketed on Fridays.
