It's Anti-bullying week and children in need! To celebrate these days, we are wearing odd socks, and we have had an anti-bullying workshop which the children really enjoyed. We have been doing some Children in need activities in class.

In maths we have been looking at written subtraction and began to look at problem solving using written addition and subtraction. The problem solving includes missing number problems where the children must work backwards from an answer to figure out the missing number.

In English, the children have been working on speech marks and looking at how to use them in direct speech for example: "stop that please!" exclaimed Joe.

Spellings for next week are Increase, Important, interest, Island, Knowledge and learn.

The children are very lucky to have Gloucester Rugby in doing some sessions with them on Tuesday mornings. Rugby will be outside in most weathers. Please ensure that children have appropriate clothing like coats, gloves and hats and they need to be wearing joggers or leggings, not shorts! Please can they also bring a spare change of shoes and socks.
