Emerald Class Newsletter:

This week:

Amongst the Christmas performance practise, the children have enjoyed redrafting online pictures, finishing their painting as well as applying Proper Nouns to their writing. The children have been planning their stories and we are now desperate to get going with them. Once our vocabularly banks are written we can get started... wish us luck. I'm certain they will be fantastic.

We have also continued with our scrap books of our own lives. The children have enjoyed sharing their likes and dislikes as well as telling me about their families.

In Maths, we have started our addition and the children have been recalling their numberbonds to 10. We shall be building on this skill and looking into number bonds to 20 in the future. At the moment, we are placing a huge emphasis on mental methods in the hopes to teach children their numberbonds and times tables more rigourously. Each morning, the children shall be carrying out a quick mental maths game. The children were very enthusiastic to practise this. It would be lovely if you could play games or ask questions to challenge them on their number bonds to ten and their 2s, 5s, and 10 times table.

Next Week:

As the Christmas fair is fast approaching, the children will become little elves, creating Christmas craft. We are hoping to make a little range of christmas decorations which each child shall be making personally. These decorations will be on sale at the Christmas fair. If you are hoping to buy all of your child's Christmas craft, we shall also be selling the Christmas decorations as a package, where you will be able to buy all of your child's decorations for a set 'package deal' price. We will confirm prices next week before the Christmas fair on Friday.
