On our first morning back at school we were surprised to see how much our beans had grown over half term! We updated our bean diaries to show the changes and then enjoyed time in the school garden planting them out in our class bed.

In Maths this week we started learning about time and we have been impressed at how quickly the children have grasped o'clock times. It would be really helpful to support your child's understanding of time if you have an analogue clock face at home that you can refer to.

We combined our DT joining skills with Maths to use split pins to create our own clocks.

In English we have enjoyed writing summer poems using our senses to think about all things summery. In our writing we were concentrating on our basic sentence skills of capital letters, full stops and the conjunction 'and'.

We have also enjoyed sharing our home learning poems or rhymes with each other. We changed one of our tables into a stage and some of the children told their poems to the class where others have shared theirs in small groups. We have been really impressed with how well the children have remembered their words and also using clear speaking voices to share with others.

Have a lovely weekend,
