25.5.2018 – Term 5

What have we been learning?

I said I would attach photos this week of the children's royal wedding event!

This week the children have finished their wonderful stories! They cannot wait to share them with you at their final outcome (see details below). We have begun to learn directions using quarter turn, half turn and three-quarter turn it would be great if the children could practise over the break!

We are focusing on counting in fives this week; hopefully the children have come home to practise this to become more fluent. Also as part of linked learning, the children have used printing skills to create designs using leaves.

Next Week

I have sent home phonics for the children to read over half term as phonics screening is looming.

I hope you all have a lovely half term and get up to lots of wonderful things!

Dates for you Diary
