Emerald Class Newsletter:

This week:

After a lovely half term, the children have settled back well into school life. We have been busy making poppies and learning about Remembrance Sunday. It was wonderful to see each child lay their poppy in a church display during our own remembrance service. During the service, children sang and listened to older children's war poetry.

Another important event, which happened this week, was Bonfire night. The children learnt about Guy Fawkes and why we have fireworks as part of the remembrance of the gunpowder plot. The children's responses were amazing to this learning. They talked about how Guy Fawkes and his friends needed to use their 'ruby powers'. The children then made their own safety posters and Gunpowder plot poem posters.

In English, we have continued our non-chronological reports and the children are understand why we have different sub headings and how that helps the reader find facts in the text.

In Maths, we have been applying our place value knowledge to measuring with rulers and tape measures.

Next Week:

We will be learning more about the world's continents and trying to understand the classification of different animals. We will also be preparing to make our scrapbooks about our own lives.
