What have we been learning?

We had a lovely time at the church celebrating harvest. Jet class sang brilliantly so thank you for practising at home with your child. Thank you also to the parent helper who kindly gave up their morning to walk with us.

This week we have been planning and writing our non chronological reports about our historical figure, Neil Armstrong. We have combined our history learning with grammar skills focusing on using the correct punctuation consistently.

In maths we have been partitioning two digit numbers into tens and ones, finding all the different combinations. At home you could continue this learning using Lego bricks for your tens and ones and support your child to see the pattern of 10 more/less.

In dance we have started to explore and engage with our space music through movements and patterns, creating a simple dance structure.

Next Week

We will be completing our non-chronological reports in English/history.

In maths we will be challenging ourselves to solve place value word problems.

We are looking forward to our trip on Thursday 4th October to 'We the curious'. Please check the trip letter for information about clothing and lunch.

Important information

Practice counting backwards in twos. Below is the song we have been using in class.
