What have we been learning?

Another fun week in Jet Class. We have been busy writing fact sheets all about the sea creatures we researched as part of our home learning. We included sub headings, facts and questions.

We were extremely lucky to have a very informative visit from the RNLI, John told us all about the important work the RNLI do in saving lives at sea. He talked about water safety, described all the different lifeboats they use and we got to dress up and role play lifesaving drills. We raised £35 for the RNLI from our Pirate day.

In art we have experimented with colour mixing primary colours to make secondary colours on our own colour wheels and explored warm and cold colours by matching watercolours to pictures. We have researched the famous artist Van Gogh and compared his seascape painting to other famous sea paintings talking about what we liked/disliked.

As it is Anti Bullying week we have been using our Jigsaw learning to discuss and understand 'what is bullying?' We can tell you what bullying is and understand how being bullied might feel.

Next Week

We are going to be researching the famous significant person Grace Darling and her impact on the world. We will be writing a diary entry of the day she became a heroine.

In maths we will be developing our understanding comparing numbers to 20 using $<$ $>$ $=$ signs. We will be finding one, two, three more than/less than a given number to 20.

In art we will be exploring different paint techniques using watercolours, acrylic and salt ready for our Van Gogh seascape backgrounds.

Home learning

Phonics home learning has been sent home this week consolidating the sounds your child have been focusing on this week.

Please ensure children have coats, gloves and hats in school now the weather has become a lot colder.

If any parents want to come in help with reading please contact us ASAP, we are always looking for helpers.

We need glass jars to decorate for Christmas, please can you send any jars you have into school.
