It has been yet another busy week for us all with Christmas performance practising, sensory garden completion and a trip to the theatre.

We all had a brilliant time at The Wizard of Oz on Wednesday. It was a great experience to attend a show as a whole school.

Our computing skills have definitely been put to the test whilst creating our leaflets using publisher. We have had to use our diamond and emerald powers to complete them and I hope you'll agree they look very professional!

After all our hard work and wonderful enthusiasm throughout the project, our sensory garden is now complete with the exception of fixing our archway into the ground (any volunteers to help us with this would be gratefully appreciated). Although currently muddy due to the amount of work we have been doing in the area, when all the bulbs we've planted begin to flower and the grass grows back, the area will be a beautiful place for all children and families to appreciate in the future and a wonderful legacy for your children to leave when they move onto secondary schools.

SMELL!
AS you enter our tranquil garden you will smell the sweet aroma of the dazzling flowers dancing in the wind. While you take a few more steps into the garden you will still continue to smell the fragrance of the Jasmine, mint and much more.

SIGHT!
Once you reach the sight section you won't be able to take your eyes off of the bright colourful flowers. Hanging within the trees will be colourful decorations and bird houses.

TASTE!
Meet the taste section where you can eat herbs, raspberries and sugar snap peas. Also in the taste section you can relax in the ocean blue tins seat. Inside of the tins will be strong, flexible ropes for you to sit on while you enjoy yourself.

To build the garden we were put into groups to discuss what we wanted it to look like. First of all we measured the space of the place we were using and then in our groups, designed what we wanted the garden to look like. After each group had made their final design we each wrote our own description about it. Once we had wrote our own description we went back into our groups and put our ideas together and made an even better design. After that we told our plans to the class and the judges and they made an agreement. In the end we used all of the different groups ideas in one.

HEAR!
By the hear section you can relax as you listen to the cutley wind chimes blowing in the breeze and the water as it drips out of its catcher. Around the hear section there will be holes in the ground with tins in them filled with crunchy gravel.

TOUCH!
Within the touch section you can remove your shoes and socks and enjoy the bear foot mat. Also you can feel the different plants and see whether these smooth, soft, rough or spiky.

After this your senses will have blown away!

How could you not go!

Our Grand opening will be on the 8th of December 2017.

The grand opening is also an event as you may have a mince pie and a warm drink.

We will be opening at 9am to 3.30pm (not on weekends).

SENSORY GARDEN!

"As I walked into this magnificent garden I was drawn by the home-made flower beds."
By Hannah Pennington

You will have a flowertastic time.

THIS is a sensory garden because it has all of the 5 senses within it like hear, sight, smell, touch and taste.

Our sensory garden can do all sorts of things for you like give you opportunities to see, smell, taste, hear and feel things you might not of before.

This garden can help blind people with the hear section and it can help deaf people with the sight section. Aswell as that the smell and
