Pearl Class Newsletter

The children have had a busy week of assessments and talks about Kilve Court!

In computing, the children used iPads to narrow down searches to help them find more specifically what they were looking for. Firstly, we used a range of non-fiction books to look for information using the index. We then went on to use the iPads and used three searches to try and narrow down the information we could find. For example, "dog", "black dog" and "black Labrador dog".

This week in English, the children have finished their leaflets. After working hard with the literary devices, they were super excited to add pictures and colour to make their leaflets more eye catching.

This week the children were able to find out more about Kilve Court, they are all very excited but please do ask us if you need any support!

On Tuesday this week, the children had a special surprise. They had a session of Boccia and Curling. This was an inclusive activity which involved using different apparatus to help push the ball / disc to the target. The most exciting part was that this was all in the dark! The children wore fluorescent bibs and we had special lightning to help us see. The children really enjoyed this and all joined in amazingly.
