12.10.18

This week we have looked at the Recommended Reads for Year 5 on the website www.booksfortopics.com and have begun to read a short book from the list which is keeping us gripped! I was very impressed with the enthusiasm shown for reading and how many of the books on the list some of us have already read.

In English this week we have been developing our persuasive writing skills ready to write persuasive texts about Curiosity next week.

This week in Maths we have been revising our subtraction method, focusing on exchanging and have been again solving some complex problems. Next week we will be speeding up our mental addition and subtraction.

Following on from our trip, we have been producing fantastic leaflets on our own research questions.
