...and just like that, another term is over! It has been another busy week with lots of Christmassy activities going on.

This week, in maths, the children have been doing division. They are able to divide both whole numbers and decimals. As well as 4 digits by 1 digit. After this, the children then explored word problems to do with division.

In English, the children have been editing their stories to make sure they flow more coherently. The stories started really well and they all wrote a lot! We decided that after editing we will finish the stories where they are as they are all very excited about all things Christmas!

Of course, this week, the biggest thing the children have done is the Christmas performance at the Church. They all performed brilliantly. Excellent singing and they have all perfected their speaking words too.

During PE this week, the two Year 5 classes came together to do some Christmas related games. They all really enjoyed this but could also see the skill they had learnt during the past two terms put into fun games that they could use during their play times.

I must also comment on the amazing constellation homework that the children have produced! I think it is the best collection of homework I have seen since working here. The variety of work produced and the different facts they had found out was outstanding. I had to share some of the pictures to show you as we didn't get a chance to last week!

A big thank you from myself, Mrs Joyner and Mrs Gee for our Christmas gifts. We hope you have an excellent Christmas and we look forward to welcoming the children back in the New Year.
