Ruby Class Newsletter

In maths we have focused on counting in 3s. The children have found this a little tricky at times, but have shown great perseverance. They are becoming more independent and are remembering to use the resources and skills taught in class to help them progress.

In English, the children have enjoyed looking at our class text 'Around the World in Eighty Days'. We have been talking about nouns and discussing how we can make them more interesting by adding an adjective to turn it into a noun phrase. They have looked at the character of Phileas Fogg and written a character description trying to include noun phrases.

Art has seen the children exploring the work of George Seurat and the technique of pointillism. They are beginning to master the art of pointillism producing some great pieces.
