Ruby Class Newsletter

This week we have continued with our number work; learning how to count in steps of 50 and 100, find 10 more and 10 less than a number and 100 more and 100 less than a number. We have tried to look for patterns to help us with our understanding.

In English, we have started to write our newspapers. To help us, we have been hot seating, where one of us became the reporter and one of us became George. We asked and answered questions to help us to understand what a newspaper report might sound like.

This week in science, we have explored different nutrients and tried to understand how they help our bodies to develop and grow. We also looked at different foods and sorted them into food groups. In history, the children have been researching who Edward Jenner was and why he is significant. In PSHE, we looked at different learning scenarios and discussed our rights and responsibilities in managing them and dealing with them. In music, we continued to learn songs with a lady from the music hub, this week we used different percussion instruments to help us at depth to our song. In French, the children have been learning how to pronounce numbers and colours. In PE, we have continued with our country dancing and games.
