Learning

We have continued to explore traditional stories in lots of different ways but we have also developed another interest too.

As the weather has got colder, we have started to talk about how the birds will find enough food. We have been so interested that we changed our plans and decided to make some bird feeders and join the RSPB bird watch.

We worked our fingers hard to chop fat, mix in seed and make some fat balls to hang in the trees outside our classroom. Then we started to watch the birds. We will continue this next week. We had so much fun, I have included the recipe in their green books just in case you want to make some at home. Be warned though, it is very sticky! We have spotted a robin so far but have our bird hyde ready and binoculars poised. We'll keep you posted. You can join in the Big Bird Watch at home. Details can be found on the RSPB website: <https://www.rspb.org.uk/get-involved/activities/birdwatch/>

It's an excellent thing to do for an hour and gets the children interested in their environment.

In maths we have been singing a song to help us learn our number bonds. We will learn them for 5,6,7,8,9 and 10 over the coming weeks.

Bedtime Stories

We are going to run bedtime stories at 5pm on 28.2 so try to keep the date free. More details to follow.
